About Today's Game - News & Notes

Garfield Bulldogs playing Ingraham Rams

Will the Bulldogs Play or make it Hard Work?

Bulldogs host the Rams today here at historical Garfield Park, currently with a 0-3 Metro record and the Rams after a win over the Franklin Quakers have a 1-2 mark. Both teams are looking for an opportunity to begin building on a WIN, that may catapult them up from the bottom of the Metro standings.

Recapping our game verse the Lynx: Wyatt Bare (Jr) got the start, coming off of a broken throwing arm (2023), he is beginning to regain his crafty lefty ability and control that will give fits to most high school batters, saw him go 4 innings, striking out 4, allowing 2 ER, 1BB. In relief, Barty Hall (Sr) went 2 innings allowing 0 ER and Luc Robbins (Sr) 1inn, 0 ER, quite an admirable display of teammanship that kept the reigning 3A state champions at bay. Liam Mahoney (Jr) held down the battery, calling the pitches, blocking pitches, stymieing any momentum that Lincoln hoped to gain from their ability to bunt or get a hit.

Defensively: we saw DJ Parker (Sr) make a great running catch in centerfield that looked to be a standup double or triple, that went for naught! Also a double play, featuring Gavin Niccoli (Sr) and J.T. Wayne (Sr) that was brilliantly played!

Offensively: we saw Dashiell Story (So) breakup the no-hitter with a ringing hard line groundball up the middle.

Coach Moe has announced that hard throwing ACE Eli Herst (So) will get the start, he's been brilliant in his starts so far, with only a few hiccups, and those usually being a somewhat tiredness that can be overcome by getting more innings behind him and the maturity needed to be the ACE of the staff.

Ingraham head coach Tim Lee brings his Rams in to today's game after securing a 5-3 win against the Quakers, getting that first Metro win is important. They are looking to compete and hope to add to that win, so they may get a higher seed in the metro playoffs.

Enjoy Cheering for Your Team!
